KEEP AN EYE ON CROATIAN SHORTS

Ever since animated films planted the first flag on the international map of cinema, the short film scene has served as a vibrant heart of Croatian film production. This situation is even more evident today when international co-productions create a fusion of local and international talent, getting accolades from festival programmers and juries all over the world, including the members of the European Film Academy.

Croatian shorts are indeed a dynamic organism. Student and film club scenes surprise the audience by dealing with topics never before tackled in feature production. Short and middle-length documentaries offer a candid view of the society in constant change, while avant-garde approaches breach the borders between genres, renegotiating our attitudes towards the medium that is itself in a constant state of flux.

On the following pages you will find more reasons to keep an eye on Croatian shorts.

THREE REASONS
TO KEEP AN EYE ON

HALF A MAN

BY KRISTINA KUMRIĆ

1. A daring and powerful short film: Half a Man is Kristina Kumrić's superbly crafted coming of age story, marked with powerful performances by first time, as well as experienced actors.
2. Coming of age in hard times: It is not easy to be a child during the war. The playfulness of the protagonist of Half a Man, a young girl who rehearses a dance routine to a popular song, clashes with the burden of responsibility and yet undeveloped empathy when her father comes back home after a devastating experience of being a prisoner in a war camp.
3. Personal revision of the official story: Half a Man presents a candid, personal and brave portrait of war veterans and the suffering they had to endure, both during the war and after. Upon their return, they were faced with the lack of understanding from their families, friends and the entire community that was unable to comprehend the atrocities they went through.

THREE REASONS
TO KEEP AN EYE ON

PICNIC

BY

JURE PAVLOVIĆ

- 1. Winner of the European Film Award for Best European Short Film: Ever since its first screening in Berlinale Generation 14plus programme, Picnic has had a successful festival run, with more than 30 festivals under its belt. Recently, it was selected to compete in the International Competition of the Clermont-Ferrand International Short Film Festival.
- 2. A complex web of emotions: A teenage boy visits his father in prison in this simple but heart-warming story about unspoken (mis)understandings between children and parents.
- 3. Bold aesthetic approach: Jure Pavlović keeps his camera glued to the faces of his protagonists most of the film, making the viewers feel as if they were in the characters' skin.

THREE REASONS
TO KEEP AN EYE ON

SCARLET

BY

DIJANA MLAĐENović

- 1. National guilty conscience exposed: Every nation has its demons, the issues that are swept under the carpet instead of being dealt with. But there are always directors brave enough to bring those problems to light. This is the case with Dijana Mladenović and her provocative new film Scarlet.
- 2. Civic responsibility: Based on true events, Scarlet deals with a rape crime committed during the Croatian War of Independence. The characters find themselves in a situation in which they have to confront their worst enemy: their own conformity and compliance.
- 3. Wartime stereotypes questioned and laid bare: Dijana Mladenović doesn't shy away from the complexities of the topic it tackles, thus breaking the characters of Scarlet out of the usual mould: although visibly hurt, the victims in the film are active and strong, while the representatives of authority have their own integrities brought into question.

THREE REASONS
TO KEEP AN EYE ON

TWO ALL ALONE

BY ANDRIJA
MARDEŠIĆ

- 1. Playing with genre tropes: Andrija Mardešić likes to use generic formulas in a creative way, often subverting them in the process. This is the case with Two All Alone, a story about a young man and his grandmother whose relationship bears the dynamic of an offbeat screwball comedy.
- 2. Subtle social commentary: Mardešić's characters fight all the time, but in many ways they can't live without each other. This is often the case with many young people in Croatia, who postpone the moment of leaving their home, even at the cost of their own personal growth.
- 3. Putting the city of Split on the map: Taking place in contemporary Split, Two All Alone is a cinematic ode to one of the most beautiful Mediterranean cities: its architecture, people and everyday life.

THREE REASONS
TO KEEP AN EYE ON

ZVIR

BY

MIROSLAV SIKAVICA

- 1. Father-son relationship as inspiration: The only people whose opinion you really care about are the ones you love. This is the case in Zvir, where a man who demolishes illegally built houses along the Mediterranean coast accidentally takes his son with him to work. What follows is his unsuccessful attempt to hide what he does for a living.
- 2. An effective blend of documentary and fiction: As an experienced documentary filmmaker, Miroslav Sikavica used his keen eye to extract energy and emotion from authentic locations and non-professional actors.
- 3. Emotional and urban architecture: Two kinds of architecture are contained within Zvir. The first one is the father-son relationship, built upon the fractured sense of the father's moral authority. The second one is architecture in the literal sense, with the issue of illegally built houses and their dramatic demolition taken directly from the headlines and used as the frame of the story.

THREE REASONS
TO KEEP AN EYE ON

A TWO WAY MIRROR

BY KATARINA
ZRINKA
MATIJEVIĆ
VELIČAN

- 1. Autobiographical documentary: Riding the wave of intriguing autobiographical documentaries that have swept away both local and international audiences, A Two-Way Mirror is one of the boldest and most innovative deconstructions of the self in Croatian cinema: in terms of the topic as well as style.
- 2. Poetic filmmaking: Set in the meadows, forests and mountains of Lika, Katarina Zrinka Matijević Veličan uses the scenery of the region and its chilling folk tales to describe the flora and fauna of her own identity. The result is a seamless blend of the author's self and the landscape that helped shape it.
- 3. Meticulous construction: With carefully thought-out framing, editing and sound, the author transcends the literal meaning of images and soundscape. The result is a candid and intimate view on facing the limitations of one's own body and finding the strength to overcome them.

KEEP AN EYE ON EXPERIMENTAL SHORTS

THREE REASONS
TO KEEP AN EYE ON

BY THE END
TOMISLAV
ŠOBAN

- 1. Homage to the rich tradition of Croatian avant-garde filmmaking: The End was made as part of the project to mark the 50th anniversary of the Genre Film Festival in Zagreb (GEFF), an initiative that heavily influenced the experimental and avant-garde notions of filmmaking in Croatian cinema.
- 2. Questioning the borders: Part of the GEFF's heritage was renegotiating the borders between film and other arts, which Tomislav Šoban recreated within today's technological and aesthetic context.
- 3. Rethinking film and filmmaking: Instead of relying on standard filmmaking techniques, Tomislav Šoban used an architectural software for landscape design, successfully achieving film-like effects such as framing, rhythm, and even traces of a narrative. His work can thus be understood as an open question: have we reached the end of the film medium or have we opened the space for a fresh beginning?

A travelogue that is both strange and familiar, abstract and real. It begins as a traveler's sketchbook, drawn in Croatia in the summer of 2014, but details soon fade away into abstract impressions on the edges of memory. This film is reduced to its essence - a condensed feeling of one place and time.

THREE REASONS
TO KEEP AN EYE ON

FIRST GASP

BY

MIRANDA HERCEG

- 1. Man, architecture and space: Taking place in huge interior spaces, such as football stadiums and underground shopping malls, First Gasp presents the identity not as fixed construct, but as a fluid concept: a process of being simultaneously created and dissolved in the interaction between the body and the space it inhabits.
- 2. The importance of rhythm: From carefully composed images to sound editing, Miranda Herceg uses rhythmical qualities of the medium to create a pulsating and spellbinding work.
- 3. Rich and layered sound design: By creating a sense of anticipation and extracting organic qualities from the images, the soundtrack serves as more than a mere illustration of the image.

FRUIT

BY

IVAN MIRKO SENJANOVIĆ

- 1. Follow-up to successful student works: Fruit is a long awaited follow-up on Ivan Mirko Senjanović's previous film Meat (2012), selected for the Students' Competition of the Annecy International Animation Film Festival.
- 2. Playful use of stop motion: A story about a quarrel between bananas and oranges that escalates into a full-blown war in a restaurant kitchen, told through humorous and intelligent use of stop motion animation.
- 3. A satire of historic events in the Balkans: If Meat was a satire on the way we live now, Fruit is a comic reflection on the way that history is (mis)treated in the Balkan region, where age old conflicts are used to ignite new wars.

PLANEMO

BY

VELJKO POPOVIĆ

- 1. A new film by a successful animation artist: Veljko Popović has presented his previous works at many esteemed film festivals, including Clermont-Ferrand, Annecy, Animafest Zagreb, dok Leipzig and Hiroshima.
- 2. Innovative and rich animation: A story of a man who gets ejected from his everyday orbit after an almost fatal car-crash, told through superbly crafted 3D animation.
- 3. A powerful metaphor of contemporary life: By combining pseudo-documentary elements with a multilayered story, Planemo is a surreal reflection on the slow and sometimes painful fragmentation of the self in the cold, de-sensitized modern society.

Planemo
